Why Choose Isotonix Immune?

When fully activated, a healthy immune system helps form your foundation of health and wellness. Isotonix Immune is designed to boost your body's natural immune response, helping you stay healthy and energetic. By including the cutting edge ingredient Wellmune®, an ingredient that has been clinically shown to promote a healthy immune system, and combining it with the powerful delivery of Isotonix, Isotonix Immune is positioned to provide maximum absorption and boost immune response.

What will Isotonix Immune do for me?

Isotonix Immune is designed to help support immune health and promote the beneficial activity of your body's own immune cells, keeping them primed for response.

Who should use Isotonix Immune?

Adults over the age of 18 who are interested in promoting their immune health, optimizing their natural immune response, and promoting healthy energy levels and vitality throughout the year.

Should I take Isotonix Immune every day?

Immune should be taken daily as a dietary supplement. The immune system is an active component of the body, working constantly — as such, you should provide it with constant support to help you maintain optimal health and general well-being.
