FAQ'S

How much Pentaxyl do I need to use? Pentaxyl is extremely concentrated and a little goes a long way. Typically, you only need an amount equal to the size of a dime to cover the facial area and about the size of a quarter when using Pentaxyl on stretch marks. These sizes may vary depending on the areas you are covering.

When will I begin to see results? Pentaxyl's proprietary compounds may produce a visible reduction in the appearance of stretch marks (prominent because of their depth, length, and texture) and existing wrinkles in about 28 days.

Will Pentaxyl help with old wrinkles/stretch marks? Absolutely! Pentaxyl can help no matter how long you've had your wrinkles/stretch marks - whether it's been 10 days or 10 years.

Can I use Pentaxyl on the wrinkles/circles underneath my eyes? The correct way to apply Pentaxyl to the eye area is to softly massage it into the skin covering the orbital bone around the eye. Do not apply Pentaxyl directly underneath the eye or on top of the eyelid. Please use VitaShield Eye Cream which also contains Matrixyl.

Can I use Pentaxyl with other skincare products? Pentaxyl can be used with virtually all other facial products. We suggest that you test any combination of skincare products on the inside of your forearm before applying it to your face. Of course, if you are using a prescription skincare product you should consult your physician. Remember, always apply Pentaxyl first, then if needed, you may apply a moisturizer or on top of Pentaxyl.
