With two different types of pressed powder to choose from, you can easily find a good match for your client. You also get three different shades of blush and multiple pressed eye shadows that easily complement each other, making it easy to mix and match for a complete look.

What does the Motives Consultant Palette contain?

The Motives Consultant Palette contains: two Full Coverage Photo Finish Powders, two Dual Perfection Powders, three Pressed Blushes, one Pressed Bronzer and 12 Pressed Eye Shadows.

Will Motives Full Coverage Photo Finish Powder have staying power?

Yes, Motives Full Coverage Photo Finish Powder provides all day coverage alone and as a setting powder. The lightweight particles float on skin for a photo finish look that the cameras will love.

What are the benefits of using Motives Dual Perfection Pressed Powder dry?

Dusting Motives Dual Perfection Pressed Powder over a liquid foundation sets your makeup and reduces shine from oil. Motives Dual Perfection Powder can also be worn alone as a classic powder foundation. It provides medium coverage that can be layered to full.

How should I apply Motives Pressed Blush?

Choose a powder brush or a kabuki brush and try to get an even amount of blush in the bristles. Then, smile and sweep the brush in a U shape along your cheekbone and out to your temple. Make sure you blend the blush with the rest of your makeup to ensure a natural look.

What skin type is Motives Pressed Bronzer for?

Motives Pressed Bronzer works well with any skin type and skin tone.
