

Selenium

An essential trace mineral with known antioxidant properties, selenium has been shown to support prostate health because of its free-radical-scavenging properties and support of the immune response.

In addition to having a significant effect on overall prostate health, MPC® Maximum Prostate Care includes selenium, which has been shown to promote overall prostate health. Other potent herbs and nutrients in MPC Maximum Prostate Care help to maintain blood pressure, promote healthy cholesterol levels, maintain healthy sperm count, support male libido, support a healthy immune system and promote healthy prostate cells.

MPC Maximum Prostate Care

Market America has taken the time in creating MPC Maximum Prostate Care to ensure that the selected herbs and nutrients will maximize the health of the prostate and effectively optimize overall health.
